Involving the viewer in the lives of and locating missing individuals is the focus of "Missing" Without A Trace. This program will take the viewer inside the home of the missing individuals, and through home video, family albums and personal accounts, we will get to know how this person lived. Then through reenactments that have been pieced together by police files, private investigators files and eye witness accounts, the viewer will watch a recreation of the hours leading up to the disappearance! We will also be there when authorities apprehend the abductor, or when the 'missing' are reunited with their loved ones.
