

OFFICIAL GAMEDAY PROGRAM

SATURDAY, AUGUST 30, 2008

BANK OF AMERICA STADIUM • CHARLOTTE, NC

RAYCOM
Sports

Welcome from the Mayor

On behalf of Raycom Sports and the city of Charlotte, we welcome you to Bank of America Stadium for this exciting regular season football game between Virginia Tech and East Carolina University.

Raycom Sports has a long relationship with each school and is well aware of the massive support for their football programs. Virginia Tech Athletic Director Jim Weaver and East Carolina Athletics Director Terry Holland are two of the nation's most experienced and respected administrators in college athletics. Their vision to bring their tremendous fans and traditions to Charlotte made this game possible.

We are extremely excited to once again showcase the Queen City as a great destination city to college football fans from around the country, as evidenced by the success of the Meineke Car Care Bowl. The uptown area is vibrant and welcoming, while the distinctive surrounding neighborhoods, such as Southpark and Dillworth, also offer many places to explore on your visit.

Raycom Sports works on many events during the year. However, this game takes place in our hometown. We are very proud and honored to have the chance to be involved in this game for the fans in Charlotte and the Carolinas.

Again, thank you for your participation in this year's event. We are committed to doing whatever it takes to make your experience as enjoyable as possible. Please do not hesitate to let any of us at Raycom Sports know what we can do to assist you in making this a memorable time.

A handwritten signature of Ken Haines in black ink.

Ken Haines
President & CEO, Raycom Sports

Jim Weaver,
Athletic Director,
Virginia Tech

Terry Holland,
Athletic Director,
East Carolina

This is Raycom Sports

From its beginning in 1979, Raycom Sports has been a leader in marketing, producing and distributing sports programming. The company has since broadened its interests to include the creation, management and distribution of special events.

Raycom Sports has earned a reputation of being one of the nation's finest independent sports producers. At its busiest, the company televised more than 500 events a year in college basketball, college football, coaches shows and preseason specials. Altogether, Raycom offers over 25 years of production and distribution experience, including more than 10,000 live sporting events.

Raycom Sports has owned the rights to Atlantic Coast Conference men's basketball games since 1981. The company produces, distributes and markets ACC games throughout the country. In 2004, Raycom acquired the ACC syndicated football rights, securing the football and basketball rights until the 2011 season.

In November 2007, Raycom Sports purchased Lincoln Financial Sports, which was formerly Jefferson-Pilot Sports. In doing so, Raycom also acquired the Southeastern Conference syndicated football and basketball rights.

Raycom Sports has been prominent in sports programming in Charlotte during its entire history. From 1988 through 2001, Raycom operated a college basketball tournament at the Charlotte Coliseum. Known as the Diet Pepsi Tournament of Champions, Harris Teeter Pepsi Challenge, Food Lion MVP Classic and the Tournament of Champions presented by Hardee's, the event featured some of the top teams in the country each year, with legendary players and coaches.

In addition, Raycom brought Division-1A college football to Charlotte in the form of the Carolinas Clash in 1996 and 2004, featuring NC State and East Carolina, a two-year series between North Carolina and NC State in 1998 and 1999, and Temple against Clemson in 2006. All of the games were played at Bank of America Stadium. Raycom has also announced future games, featuring East Carolina against South Carolina, to take place in Charlotte.

And in 2002, the inaugural Meineke Car Care Bowl was played in Charlotte, featuring ACC and Big East selections. A sellout crowd of 73,535 witnessed the game, the second-largest attendance for a first year bowl in NCAA history. The game has averaged over 62,000 fans in its first six years, with two sellouts.

Due to Raycom Sports' vast network of television station contacts, the company is often tabbed to distribute programming for outside entities. Programs distributed include the Arizona Cardinals and Washington Redskins preseason packages, BB&T Children's Charities Classic, John Wooden Classic, CIAA Basketball, HBO's Journey of the African-American Athlete and the Citrus Bowl Parade.

Raycom Sports owns and operates sporting events throughout the country including The Meineke Car Care Bowl in Charlotte and the PGA Longs Drugs Challenge in San Francisco.

A joint venture with Raycom Sports and the Atlantic Coast Conference led to the creation of ACC Properties, which assists in marketing and promoting the ACC's corporate mark.

The company has also marketed made-for-television events for a variety of entities, including the Toyota Gator Bowl and the Cotton Bowl for Liberty Sports, PHOENIX Communications' NBC News Satellite and Golf 2000 with Peter Jacobsen.

Raycom Sports has also achieved a high level of success marketing title sponsorships, including the matching of Tostitos to the Fiesta Bowl, AFLAC, the Mitchell Company and Aerus Electrolux to PGA tournaments, Continental Tire North America, Meineke Car Care Centers, Mazda, Micron Electronics, Carquest Auto Parts and Blockbuster Video to bowl games, and DIRECTV, Pepsi and Food Lion to college basketball tournaments.

Raycom Sports is a division of Montgomery, Alabama-based Raycom Media, Inc., a multi-billion dollar company that owns or operates 44 television stations in 18 states, covering over twelve percent of the country.

Raycom Sports is headquartered in Charlotte, NC, with outer offices in Birmingham, San Francisco and Sacramento.

RAYCOM
Sports